COVID-19 SUMMARY

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

On 03/02/20 at 0700 hours, the Cal OES State Operations Center (SOC) activated in support of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Medical Health Coordination Center's (MHCC) statewide response to COVID-19. Cal OES will continue to provide resource coordination for the COVID-19 event, as well as situation status reporting and advance planning across multiple areas.

SMARTER Plan

On 02/17/22, Governor Newsom unveiled the "California SMARTER Plan: The Next Phase of California's COVID-19 Response". The plan emphasizes continued readiness, awareness and flexibility and helps ensure California can maintain its focus on communities that continue to be disproportionately impacted and stay prepared to swiftly and effectively respond to emerging COVID-19 variants and changing conditions.

WEATHER KEY POINTS

03/09/22 - 03/15/22

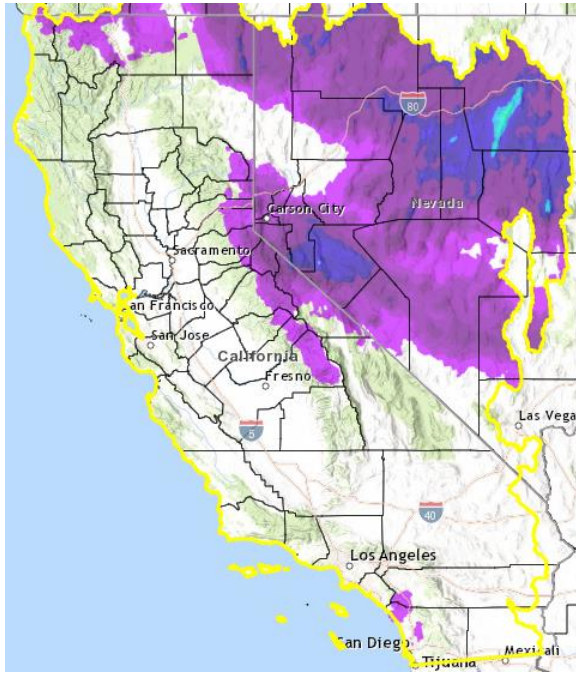

Wednesday - Tuesday

- Periods of gusty northeast to northwest winds are expected to begin developing late Wednesday afternoon across the southern California mountains and foothills, Sierra, western Sacramento Valley, and the northern Coastal Ranges and continue through Thursday night. The most widespread and strongest winds will occur later Thursday and Thursday night, with gusts of 40 to locally 70 mph, strongest for the higher elevations.
 - Brief periods of elevated fire weather conditions are possible over the inland southern California mountains and foothills due to ongoing dry weather and the strong winds, particularly on Thursday
 - Areas of blowing dust are also possible at times across the deserts
- Scattered light showers are expected across the Sierra Wednesday and Thursday, with a few showers also possible across southern California on Thursday. Any precipitation amounts will be very light, holding under one-tenth of an inch.
- After colder temperatures on Thursday, a warming trend is expected through the weekend and early next week, with some additional light precipitation possible across far northern California the latter half of the weekend
- Additional storms could bring more widespread precipitation to northern California toward the middle of next week, though the details remain very uncertain at this time
